CBHS PRINCIPAL DEREK PIERCE PRINCIPAL OF THE YEAR

Casco Bay High School Principal Derek Pierce is Maine's NASSP Principal of the Year for 2016.

The Maine Principals' Association (MPA) made the announcement this spring and Pierce was honored at the MPA's Spring Conference on April 28. The MPA said Pierce received the award based on his accomplishments as a strong educational leader, as a role model in the development of positive school culture and climate, building student-centered programs, and on his ability to inspire all those around him to meet the learning needs of every student, every day.

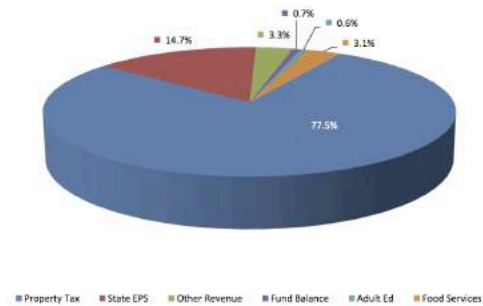

In announcing Pierce's selection, MPA Executive Director Richard Durost noted, "Derek Pierce has been the constant in the development of Casco Bay High School as a national model for expeditionary learning. His leadership as well as the commitment of the students, staff, and Portland School Department to provide an alternative educational option is commendable."

Portland Mayor Ethan Strimling said, "Derek Pierce is a jewel in Portland. ... I am beyond pleased that he is being recognized statewide for his excellent work with Portland school kids. We are lucky to have his skills in our community."

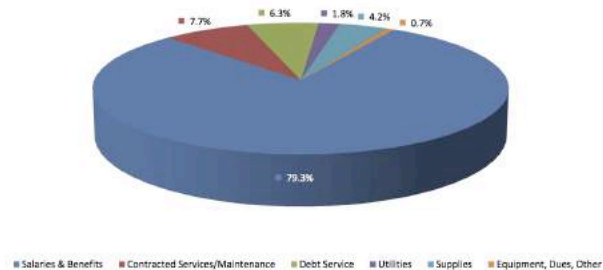

Pierce said many people played a role in helping him gain the recognition. Those he thanked included the Portland Board of Public Education, PPS staff, his family and the school's students. He told the students: "You are our greatness." The students gave him a standing ovation.
